WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1858.

Under the direction of the War Department, several parties have been employed during the past five years in examining the available routes for a railroad to the Pacific from the Mississippi. The results of these explorations and surveys have been published by order of Congress, in four 4to. volumes, containing numerous maps, charts, and prints. The report of Lieut. Whipple, of the Topographical Engineers, upon the route near the thirty-fifth parallel, has been made public recently. There are available routes for a railroad south of the line where heavy snows prevail. It is obvious that in a sparsely-settled country snow would be a serious obstacle to the construction, as well as to the permanent and general use, of a railroad route. Postmaster General Brown has made a further exposition of his views in regard to the best route overland to the Pacific, in defending the present established mail route from the assaults of more northern competitors. He says:

That the very shortest distance anywhere to be found between existing States is on the El Paso route. From the western boundary of Texas, on the Rio Grande, to Fort Yuma—the western boundary of California—is only about 460 or 470 miles. On no other route is the distance through United States lands or Territories, by several hundred miles, so short. Four hundred and sixty or seventy miles is, therefore, the whole distance that the United States would be called on to make the railroad outside existing States.

A CHANCE FOR FIREMEN.—An effort is being made in Boston to collect $10,000 to be awarded partly in premiums of $2,000, $1,500, and $1,000 to the fire companies throwing the first, second, and third highest streams of water through 400 feet of hose, and $1,000 and $500 to the two hose companies doing the same. The trial is to take place in August or September next, on Boston Common, and to be open to all the fire companies in the United States. The firemen of Louisville are thus included in the challenge, and if their engines are in order we have no doubt they will compete honorably with those from other cities in such a trial. In energy, activity, skill, and perseverance they cannot be surpassed, and we should like to see a Louisville fire company bring away the prize from such a contest.

A scrap of political history is revived by a writer in the Richmond Whig. In 1808, James Madison, the author of the celebrated Resolutions and Report of 1798-'99, the text book of the Secessionists, was elected President of the United States. On the 8th day of December of that year, the Electors of Virginia, at the head of whom was Spencer Roane, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and a leader of the State Rights party, met in Richmond to cast the vote of the State. They dined together at the old Swan Tavern, and as usual drank toasts and made speeches. Among the regular toasts prepared for the occasion and drunk with approbation by the company was the following: "The Union of the States: The majority must govern: IT IS TREASON TO REBEL!"

A case recently decided in the Court of Common Pleas, at London, shows how liable the more experienced men are to be deceived by a well-executed forgery, and how little reliance can be placed upon the evidences of skilled witnesses to handwriting. The British Linen Company sued Mr. Makins on two bills of exchange, and his signature was sworn to by clerks in a banking establishment. The defendant denied that the acceptances were in his writing; and a wretched convict named Turnbull, whose statement should be a warning to all who read its description, admitted that the signatures were forged by him to raise temporary accommodation.

DROWNED.—When the mail-boat Superior had started out yesterday, a man, who, from appearances, was one of the deck-hands, fell overboard at the stern and was drowned.

The bill to recharter the Planters' and Union Banks failed in the Tennessee House of Representatives on Saturday last.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river is still rising. In the twenty-four hours ending last evening it had risen 9 inches, making 7 feet 6 inches water in the canal by the mark. On the falls there were 5 feet 6 inches. Weather warm and pleasant.

Our Pittsburg dispatch reports 13 feet water there and rising.

The Princess.—We met Mr. Devinney yesterday, one of the pilots of the Princess. From him we learn that the Great Western struck the P. in the side just forward of the boilers, and the latter sunk in ten minutes with the water over her cabin floor. Mr. D. thinks that all the freight will be saved in a damaged condition, and that the boat can be saved. She was insured in Mr. Tyler's agencies in this city for $6,000. Her freight list was insured in Cincinnati for $1,500. The cargo was also insured there. Mr. Devinney did not know the names of any of the persons who were drowned. All the books and papers, as well as the baggage of the cabin passengers, were saved.

The Woodford for New Orleans.—One of the finest passenger packets in the trade is the Woodford, and she has in Capt. Mather a very skillful and successful commander. Her cabins and staterooms are handsomely furnished, and have every convenience to render passengers comfortable. Her culinary department equals that of the best hotels. Mr. McLaughlin, who has charge of the office, is a kind and attentive officer, and he has two valuable assistants in Messrs. Benedict and Creel.

The Peter Tellon.—This mammoth steamer also leaves for New Orleans this evening. The Tellon is not a magnificent steamer, yet passengers will be accommodated comfortably. She has fine capacity for carrying live stock. Capt. Box commands and Mr. Ethel is the clerk.

The H. D. Newcomb for New Orleans.—This fast steamer arrived yesterday. We thank her attentive officers for favors. She came up in 6½ days. We speak from what we have from reliable authority when saying that the Newcomb in elegance of accommodations, luxury of fare, and courtesy of her officers has no superior. Capt. H. I. Spotts is her commander and Messrs. Landrum and Barclay are the clerks. The Newcomb will return to New Orleans to-morrow.

The Imperial.—This magnificent steamer will leave for New Orleans to-morrow evening. She is lying at the city wharf, and is really worth a visit. All who have had a hand in her construction may really feel proud of her.

Louisville and Nashville Weekly Packet Line.—Steamers John Gault and Tempest.—We are glad to learn that Capt. Bunce, of the John Gault, and Capt. Parr, of the Tempest, entered into an arrangement yesterday to run in connection regularly between this port and Nashville. One of the boats will leave this port every Thursday. They are new, have fine cabins, and are in charge of first-rate officers. Of course it will require the co-operation of our citizens to sustain them, and if they consult their interests they will patronize them. The Gault will start on to-morrow and the Tempest on Thursday week. We are indebted to Mr. Gathway for a copy of the manifest.

The Highflyer commences her trips in the St. Louis trade to-day.

The Telegraph is the mailboat for Cincinnati to the Dove is the Kentucky river packet.

The John Raine left New Orleans on Saturday, is expected to arrive next Saturday, and will leave here on Monday next.

The Pacific was at Memphis night before last. She is expected to arrive to-morrow night and will return to New Orleans on Saturday.

VIUEXTENTS AND THALBERG'S CONCERT.—It will be seen by referring to our advertising columns that the manager for Messrs. Viuextents and Thalberg announces but one grand concert in this city, which will take place on Saturday evening next, at the Masonic Hall. We understand that prior engagements in New York prevent these gentlemen from prolonging their stay in the West, as they give a concert in Cincinnati on Monday and then leave direct for the North. It is to be regretted that this is the case, for we feel sure that the hall will not hold one-half of the people who are desirous of hearing a combination of two such artists as Viuextents and Thalberg; but they are not alone the attractions of the evening, for combined with them we have M'le Carroll, the great soprano; Miss Annie Kemp, the young and beautiful contralto; Mad. Viuextents, and Mr. Ernst Perring, the celebrated English tenor from the Academy of Music, New York, who was brought over for the production of English opera and oratorios. With such artists we may indeed look forward to one of the greatest musical festivals of the season.

In New Orleans, where they have been performing, they met with immense success, their concerts being crowded with the elite and fashion of the city, and on many occasions the tickets were sold long before the day of the concert, and hundreds were unable to obtain admission who were desirous of attending.

The sale of the seats will commence on Thursday morning, at the music store of D. P. Faulds, at 9 o'clock precisely, and those of our friends who do not wish to be disappointed in hearing this celebrated troupe would do well to be early at the office, as we have no doubt every seat will be sold by Thursday evening.

CONGRESS.—In the House yesterday, the Administration suffered another defeat. Mr. Phelps, of Missouri, introduced a new scheme in regard to Kansas, providing for a new Convention, to which the Lecompton constitution should be referred, and moved its reference to a select committee. Mr. Stephens moved to amend by referring it to the committee on Territories, which motion was lost by 94 to 105. Mr. Phelps is a Lecomptonite, and such a proposition from him must be considered as a concession.

In the Senate Messrs. Green and Cameron apologized, and the Kansas debate was then continued.

The residence of Thomas W. Tompkins, of Warrenton, Mo., was destroyed by fire on the 7th. Loss $8,000.

At the New York stock board, on Saturday, $25,000 6 per cent. Carter county (Kentucky) bonds, payable April 15, 1858, sold at 42½.

[From this morning's Journal.]

XXXVTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.
Tuesday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 16.

Senate.—After some preliminary unimportant business, Mr. Hale made a statement of an agreement entered into by his friends and acquiesced in by many gentlemen of the opposite side. The agreement reads: We agree that debate shall close and the question be taken on Monday next, but if it appears necessary that sessions be protracted to allow free discussion, they shall be extended to such hour as we may indicate.

Mr. Bigler considered the agreement in accordance with the views of his friends.

Green and Cameron apologized.

Mr. Green said that after consultation with a number of friends he would make a personal explanation. He was said to have used language last night which was understood as personal. If so, he now will draw it.

Mr. Cameron said he might have come into the Senate last night under a wrong impression. He had no disrespectful feeling toward the Senator from Missouri—he could have none. In common with all the Senators he respected that gentleman, and did not intend anything disrespectful toward him.

Mr. Green rose as if to say more, but the friends of both seemed to wish no more to be said, and the matter dropped.

Mr. King spoke on Kansas. He made a very lengthy anti-Lecompton speech, tracing the various occurrences in Kansas, &c.

Mr. Mallory defended the Lecompton constitution and the rights of the South. He foresaw the day when the South will be in the minority. We cannot and ought not to ignore the fact, and in giving up the ship of State she can surrender it with honor. It already becomes her to consider her future. Her political state is threatened, but the darkest hour is before the dawn. It remains to be seen how the South will act when her political power is submerged, but one thing is certain, she will never submit voluntarily acquiesce under a violated constitution.

Mr. Pugh said he would be brief. His State had instructed him how to vote, but he would state his convictions didn't admit the necessity of an enabling act. The three first States admitted into the Union, Vermont, Kentucky, and Tennessee, had none. The first admitted with such an act was his own State, and that was under peculiar circumstances. Of 18 States admitted eight had enabling acts and ten had none.

Referring then to Kansas, he said he considered the Lecompton constitution legal. The constitution of the United States does not require a State to have a constitution, at least not a written one. He here instanced Rhode Island. Delegates assembled in forms of law, he contended, are an assumption that the people mean to delegate to them full power. The people may require them to submit their acts for their approval. Referring to the charge that Lecompton delegates had not fulfilled their pledges to the people, he contended that was a question with which Congress has nothing to do. They had no right to revise the constitution of the people of Kansas.

He now came to his proposed amendment. It is possible, he said, the clause in the Lecompton constitution providing for its change in 1861, if the people choose, may prevent any change till then. Our republican ancestors held that a power that could do an act could undo it. Senators have called the constitution a compact, and a compact can be dissolved by mutual consent. He here cited several authorities to support his argument. But why, he asked, quote books when we have the power in our own charter? He here quoted the declaration of independence: "When governments become," &c., "it is right for the people to abrogate and reform," &c. Senators had called this doctrine revolutionary. Against whom? Against what mighty sovereign? They have forgotten that governments are made for men, not men for governments. The essence of a republican government is that the people can change it peacefully.

Mr. Pugh now addressed himself to the apostle of popular sovereignty, and asked if the ninety thousand inhabitants of a State who form a constitution can bind and impose it as an inexorable law upon two millions (it may be) of inhabitants in that State when it shall have expanded beyond the wildest dream of its founders. If that is popular sovereignty he would call it the authority of dead men's bones.

Mr. Pugh here quoted Judges Catron and Daniel, and also Daniel Webster, in support of his views. Referring to the Lecompton constitution, he refuted the statements that the President or judiciary can ever interfere with whatever constitution the people of Kansas may choose. The Supreme Court has decided that it has no power to say which of two instruments is the constitution of a State; but, said Mr. Pugh, my principal purpose was to state that the President of the Lecompton Convention is bound to complete his trust before it comes before us, which I hope will be the case before a vote is taken. He concluded by speaking for the admission of Kansas. Mr. Stewart, of Michigan, said he would take an early opportunity to reply to the Senator from Ohio.

House.—Mr. Stevens introduced a bill for the construction of a wagon road from the navigable waters of Missouri to the Columbia river.

Mr. Burroughs's bill granting land for the Niagara ship canal was referred to a select committee.

Mr. Phelps introduced a bill for the admission of Kansas. It provides for a new convention, to which the Lecompton constitution should be referred. He moved its reference to a select committee.

Mr. Stephens moved to refer it to the committee on Territories.

Lost—94 against 105.

Mr. Covode offered a resolution to adjourn to the first Monday in June.

Mr. Florence offered a preamble, reciting that commissioners be appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania to investigate the affairs of the Bank of Pennsylvania. In a report recently made referring to certain expenditures, it is stated that $25,000 are charged which was given as compensation for a certain sale of a banking house to the Government for a postoffice, and rumor having connected the transaction with persons holding high official positions under the General Government, it is important to ascertain the truth thereof; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to investigate the matter, with power to send for persons and papers.

The Speaker laid before the House a memorial from the Legislature of Utah, addressed to the President and Congress. It was read, but, before the final disposition thereof, The House adjourned.

St. Louis, March 16.

The New Mexico mail of the 15th ult. has arrived. Capt. Marcy would leave about the 1st of March for Camp Scott, taking flour, salt, corn, and animals.

Owing to the fact that the wagons would return via Bents, taking a more circuitous northeasterly route than previously traveled, he is reported to have said that supplies could be furnished much easier and quicker from New Mexico than elsewhere.

The Legislature passed resolutions complimentary to the officers of the army, recommending several for promotion in the event of the increase of the army.

The Santa Fe Gazette says that the chief of the Salt Lake Utahs visited the Captains in Mexico, with a view to induce them to join the Mormons, stating that the Mormons could poison the air so that their enemies would die, and that all the troops would be destroyed. The mission was unsuccessful.

Kit Carson concluded a treaty between the Utahs, Mutache, Arapahoes, and Pueblos. They agree to take sides with the United States in the event of an issue between them and the people of any territory, and render all the aid they can toward suppressing rebellion in Utah.

The Gazette calls for improvement in the mail facilities.

St. Louis, March 16, P. M.

The river has risen about 4 feet since Saturday, but is now stationary or receding slightly—12 feet in the channel to Cairo. Upper Mississippi open to Prairie du Chien, with 5 feet on the bar at Dubuque. The Illinois is open to the foot of Peoria lake, with 4 feet on the bars. The Missouri is falling slowly, with 6 feet in the channel. Rain set in about 5 o'clock yesterday evening and still continues. Mercury 58.

Muzzling a Child.—A curious case came before the police magistrates yesterday. A colored man named Henry Colbird was charged with ill-treating a child of his household by muzzling her between meal times. Hearing of the matter, the deputy chief proceeded to the prisoner's residence, where he found a little girl named Sarah Cecilia Hill behind the door of the house. Her head and face were completely covered by a wire-work cap or muzzle, locked behind with a small brass padlock. By means of this instrument, she was unable either to eat or drink. The only reason assigned by Mr. Colbird for his conduct was that the child was exceedingly thievish of eatables and drinkables, though she got her meals regularly.—Toronto Leader.

We mentioned some days since the killing of Dr. D. C. Sharpe, at Lexington, Miss., by Colonel Wood, of that place. The latter was tried on the 26th ult., before magistrates, who refused to admit him to bail, but committed him on a charge of murder.

A writ of habeas corpus was granted by Judge Cochran, and a hearing had before him on Wednesday, the 3d inst. The defendant discarded the assumed plea of justifiable homicide and plead insanity caused by mania potu, at the time of the killing. After argument by counsel, the accused was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

Market dull and sales generally light. A sale of 100 bbls good city mills flour at $4; by the dryland superfine was selling at the same figure. Wheat 70½¢.

In the grocery market sales of 23 hbls sugar at 7½¢, and 50 bbls refined at 11½¢. Small sales of molasses in hbls at 36¢. Sales of 125 bags Rio coffee at 12½¢ and a few bags Maricao at 14¢.

In provisions, a sale of 115 hbls mess pork at $15.25, 100 bbls to fill Southern orders at $15.50, and 80 bbls M. O. at $14.75. A private dispatch from New Orleans comes over at $16.50 @ $16.75, which is an advance. There are some orders for bacon on the market. We quote it from the country 6c for shoulders, 7½¢ for hams, 8.00 for clear sides, 8½¢ for prime bell and 10¢ for leg hams.

Sales of 81 hbls tobacco at very full prices—2 at $4.55 and $4.95, 20 at $5.05, 14 at $6.00, 19 at $6.75, 16 at $6.80, 9 at $6.85, and 1 at $10. A New Orleans report for the 8th says:

There has been an active demand, and we hear of 474 hbls sold as follows: 138, 110, and 56 on private terms; 8 at 2½¢, and 117 by one party, comprising 100 Clarksville at 10¢, 10 Clarksville at 11¢, and 7 at 12¢, of which 25 admitted 18 and refused at 7½¢ round, 5 admitted at 8¢, and 25 hbls at 8¢. Market firm.

Sales of 23 bales Cannelton sheetings at 8½¢.

Sales of raw whisky at 16½¢.

Of the New York money market, the Journal of Commerce of Saturday, says:

The supply of business paper is increasing, and this keeps it down in the market, but without any increase in the rates of interest.

We shall soon reach a point of reaction in our foreign trade when the imports will once more begin to increase; but it will be a long time before the war from this return tide will reach distant points and come back to us with large shipments of merchandise. It will first be felt in the case of commodities nearest to us, but it generally takes from six to nine months for the effect upon the most remote channels of trade.

Foreign exchange is moderately active at the decline noted yesterday.

The stock market still tends downward, and is only moderately active.

The exports of specie from New York for January 1st to the 15th inst., and the same time for the preceding six years compare as follows:

EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 17, 1858.

RAILROADS OF THE UNITED STATES.—It is a happy conjunction of the circumstances and influences that attend the march of progress and civilization, that railroads and locomotion by steam should have been invented, and hence have rapidly become an element of unexampled power, just at the time that our Republic is rising to the eminence of one of the greatest nations of the earth. According to the Railroad Record, "the United States has increased in wealth full a thousand millions of dollars by railroads!" We do not for a moment doubt the truth of this statement, and will add, that the augmented production of national resources will be more than doubly augmented in the same period for the time to come. Let it be remembered that the Union is annually gaining and settling new States and Territories. These will require railroads to bring the ever-cumulative treasures of agriculture to the great cities and ports of the East, whence they will be shipped to the chief nations of Europe. We are rejoiced to perceive also, that in several of the States railroads have of late years paid fair and even good dividends. Thus, in Massachusetts and Connecticut, five to six per cent.; in New York, eight per cent.; in Ohio (so far as returns have been received), nine per cent., while the main arteries of Pennsylvania and New Jersey have also yielded reasonable profits. Look at the rapid multiplication of the iron highways. In 1844 there were but 4,311 miles in the entire country; but now there are 24,195 miles, with about 3,000 miles in addition that are yet unfinished. So that, in thirteen years, twenty thousand miles have been built! Success, therefore, to the construction of railroads! For they promise not only to unite us by iron links, as one family, but also to promote agriculture, commerce, manufactures, population, and the rapid circulation—combined with an extensive and general diffusion of that vital principle of industry and enterprise—money.

FRENCH CHIT-CHAT.—The police of Paris, and indeed of all France, are charged with the most restrictive orders. The Prefect, who was severely reprimanded by the Emperor for his neglect in permitting to remain in France a band of conspirators, known to be there for weeks before they made their attempt, has asked for a special appropriation of $200,000 to enable him to augment in France and abroad the secret police. He throws the blame on his limited means, and the Emperor, forced to adopt every measure which may offer any additional hope of security, seconds the demand of the Prefect. But a secret police! This sounds strangely in the ears of the people of a free country. As for the Cantillon story, a contradiction has been given by Lord Palmerston to the statement that the legacy left by the first Napoleon to Cantillon, for his attempt to assassinate the Duke of Wellington, has been paid. The allegation is that only a small portion was originally paid by the executors, in the time of Charles the Tenth, and subsequently it was agreed that no further payments should take place, as it was to be inferred such a legacy could only have been made in a moment of temporary insanity from illness. The fact remains, however, that in the Moniteur, about four years ago, it was said the amount had been paid with interest. At least, so says the Paris correspondent of the New York Commercial.

ARIZONA AS A COTTON REGION.—Late investigations prove that the Territory of Arizona, rich as it is in resources, promises more from the adaptation of its soil and climate to the production of cotton than from all other elements of wealth. Gen. Gadsden, in a letter to Lieut. Maury, republished in the States, enclosing a sample of cotton produced in that region, says:

You are aware, perhaps, that the black seed cotton—hybrids, of finer qualities, which sea or salt air and superior cultivation have produced in the Carolinas, Georgia islands, and now extending to Florida—is a native of the Gila, a river of Arizona. It is from this cotton that the finest Mexican serapes are manufactured. I was fortunate enough to obtain a handful of the seed from a friend at Fort Yuma, and raised seed enough from it to restore it purely in this State. As these lower qualities of long cottons are getting in demand, I send enclosed a sample of the cotton as raised near this city, as it might be of interest to you and the friends of that newly-acquired district, seeking to take a place in the cotton field as well as silver products of that mineral region.

The sample of cotton is said to be the same in character as that described by Gray and others as raised by the Pimos Indians, and resembles the Sea Island in its fine silky texture and long staple.

ABOUT INDIA.—A Mr. Leonard Wray, formerly in the service of the East India Company, has been lecturing in New York. He stated that large fortunes were frequently made by the planters of indigo, who are a peculiarly jovial, kindhearted, and hospitable set of people. In the manufacture of indigo, the Europeans excel the natives. The reverse is true as regards sugar, which is more profitably manufactured from the wild fig tree than from the sugar-cane.

The cotton-producing regions are four or five times as extensive as that of the United States, and India supplies all the Asiatic States with this staple, but the distance is unfavorable for exportation to Europe. The tea-growing regions are very large, and the tea is superior to that grown in China. The European planters in India, as friends and protectors, usually exercise an influence over the native population. They knew of the intended meeting of the Sepoys before it broke out, but the East India Government would not heed the warnings given, deeming such an occurrence impossible.

John Farbon, the War Office Messenger, has been fully committed for the stealing of the Earl of Suffolk's pictures. The only interesting point at his examination before the Whitehall magistrate was the evidence of the pawnbroker, Mr. Luff, showing how the best judges differ. When the picture was left with him, a friend told him not to lose it for a matter of £10; Luff managed, however, to get it for £6. He then took it to Mr. J. Stevens, of Euston Square, who pronounced it to be what it was, a genuine Leonardo da Vinci. Sir Charles Eastlake, on the contrary, pronounced it to be painted by Pedrini. Mr. Farrar, of Bond street, after due examination, pronounced it to be by Andrea Solari. "I made the painting as public as I possibly could," said the dealer, "for the sake of sale, and have been asking for the last fortnight £1,000 for it."

SUGAR.—A letter from Barbadoes, dated Feb. 12, states that sugar making has become general throughout this island, and the article is coming to market in large quantities. The crop is the largest ever made on the island, yielding 60,000 hhds.

MUSARD IN NEW YORK.—The Paris Courier France Italian, Feb. 25th, says that Musard will depart on the 1st of March for the United States, having been engaged by Ullman at a salary of 40,000 francs and four half benefits (we presume for one year). The concert, says the Courier, will alternate with the representation of the opera, and will also be given with the singers at the opera—Thalberg, Vieuxtemps, &c. Among other artists of the Concerts de Paris who will accompany Musard are Demerson, flutist, and Hubans, hautboy—the best in Europe. They are engaged for New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Baltimore.

ITEMS.

On the 29th of January, two Americans in Constantinople fitted up a sleigh and drove around the city, an exploit never before accomplished in that place. They passed up and down by the Sultan's palace. The Turks were delighted.

A Kansas paper states that it is the intention of a gentleman in Virginia to carry to Topeka early in the coming spring 200,000 grape roots, embracing the most productive and hardy varieties cultivated in this country.

Life Insurance.—The Bridgeport (Conn.) Advertiser learns that over $28,000 have been paid in that city within a few months, to heirs and executors of persons who had obtained insurance on their lives.

A Drover.—A drover arrived in Albany, New York, last Monday, with 12,000 head of cattle, obtained in Indiana and Illinois. This is the largest lot of cattle ever brought to Albany by one man.

It is now said that Thomas Allsup, suspected of complicity in the conspiracy to take the life of Louis Napoleon, has sailed for California.

A Snow Storm South.—The city of Augusta, Ga., was visited with a lively snow storm on the evening of the 7th.

Squilbs "wants to know" if doctors, by looking at the tongue of a wagon, can tell what ails it.

A punster says: "My name is Somerset. I am a miserable bachelor. I cannot marry; for how could I hope to prevail on any young lady, possessed of the slightest notions of delicacy, to turn a Somerset?"

Tu for Tu.—A Mr. Miller, who is a school teacher in Canandaigua, having corrected a boy in school, was publicly horse-whipped by the father of the youth, a Mr. Garlinghouse, who also arrested the teacher for assaulting the boy. A jury acquitted the teacher, and arrived at the conclusion that the boy deserved all that he received. The teacher may now recover damages if he chooses.

The Norfolk Herald says: "We are informed that $65,000 in Treasury notes of $500 and $1,000, sent on from Washington to pay off the employees of government in the Navy Yard here, were returned yesterday, in consequence of the amount being so large that the purser could make no use of them."

The Boy State Mills.—We have lately seen in many of the papers a report to the effect that the Boy State Mills were resuming operations, having hired 600 operatives, while more would be added to the number. The Lawrence American denies its correctness, and says that the mills are merely using up what remnants of stock are left on hand, preparatory to winding up entirely.

Warned to Leave Town.—A correspondent informs us that the late John Avery Parker, an enterprising and successful merchant of New Bedford, who died worth $1,300,000, was at one time in his life warned to leave Westport, Mass., under the old law or custom as to warning strangers, lest he should become a public charge. If this act of far-reaching caution induced Mr. Parker to locate himself in New Bedford, the latter city has been under deep obligations to the selectmen of Westport for this at that time common but absurd act.

The Methodist Church Case.—This suit, it will be remembered, was decided by His Honor Matthew Edmonston, at the last term of the Circuit Court held for the county of Wood. The decision of the Judge was favorable to that party usually denominated the Northern branch of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The suit not only involved a considerable amount of valuable real estate situated in the town of Parkersburg, but also important legal questions, which it was considered, had never been fully adjudicated by the higher courts of Virginia. Application was made to the Court of Appeals, now in session at Richmond, for a writ of supersedeas, with a view to its final arbitration by that learned tribunal. The court refused to grant the supersedeas, or in other words, we presume, ratified the decision of Judge Edmonston.

In the latter part of 1856, a young man named Page Emme, a mail carrier, in Caroline county, was arrested upon a charge of robbing the mail. For the want of sufficient evidence at the time, the grand jury failed to find a true bill against him. A short time before Christmas last, articles stolen from the mail were found in his room, and were identified by those who saw them as articles stolen from the mail. An officer was notified of the facts. The young man, finding himself in rather a tight place, fled to the western part of Missouri. The officer found out his stopping place. He gave the postmaster in Missouri, near the place or neighborhood where young Emme was staying, the facts in regard to the matter. The postmaster had him questioned, and was of the opinion that he was not the same man. Young Emme, however, became alarmed, and made way with his life by taking poison.

Peach Prospects.—The result of extensive examinations by several gentlemen who are interested in the production of this delicious fruit, in the regions near this lake in Ohio, is an opinion that the buds are injured beyond remedy. This is the common report every winter, but our connections by rail and otherwise unite us to so vast an extent of country that we can scarcely be disappointed in a fair supply of peaches.

PARIS, Feb. 27.

The French Government has given official notice that hereafter no person can enter or leave the French territory without a passport regularly issued by the French authorities; and in the case of those coming in, the visa must be made beyond the French frontier.

The lines of steamers from Havre to New York, and from St. Nazaire, to Cuba, Aspinwall, Guadalupe, Mexico, and Cayenne have been let to the Company V. Marzon for twenty years, at 9,300,000 francs a year. They will not be ready to operate before the end of three years, so much time is spent in France in the details of organization.

A letter appears in the Constitutional of yesterday from Mr. Henry Wyckoff, defending Mr. Buchanan from the charges made against him by Gen. Walker in his Mobile speech. Mr. Wyckoff denies that the President ever promised the filibuster his sympathy or assistance in the conquest of Nicaragua.

Mr. Rarey, the American horse-tamer, who made such a sensation in England, is repeating his experiments here in the Emperor's stable, to the astonishment of everybody. The Emperor has appointed a committee of gentlemen to report to him on the subject, and it is anticipated that Mr. Rarey will be handsomely rewarded by his Majesty for the important discovery.

On Monday evening last the American Minister gave a grand ball at the rooms of the Legation in honor of Washington's birthday. The attendance was very numerous and brilliant, and embraced all the diplomatic corps, their attaches and families, nearly all the Americans in Paris, and many of the political, financial, and literary notabilities of the city. The affair was sumptuously got up, and did honor to the Minister and the occasion.

The American bankers, John Monroe & Co., of this city, have resumed payments, and as the loss of the house by the crisis did not consume even the profits of the last year, it is safe to say that all the confidence which was formerly extended to this house will return to it.

The President has received an autograph letter from Prince Albert, accompanied with a medal containing the likenesses of the Princess Royal and Frederick William. The letter is a friendly one, and contains sentiments of high regard.

NEARLY A HORSE TOO MUCH.—Stanley Smith, editor of the Auburn American, gives the following amusing anecdote of his chase by and escape from a savage bull, during a recent visit to a farm in the neighborhood of Auburn, to witness a trial of mowers:

That bull was one of them. "He was monarch" of all he could eat, chase, or gore. Being deeply interested in the apple crop, we wandered out of the field in which the mowing was going on into friend Shotwell's orchard. Fat and handsome blood cows were lying about chewing their cuds, and utterly indifferent as to what was going on. We wandered on from tree to tree in the large orchard; and, while critically examining some very fine fruit, were suddenly and rather unpleasantly startled from our train of thought by the bellowing of Mr. Taurus, whose majesty had been reclining, and of whose august presence we were unaware. He elevated his tail, made the earth fly with his "awful paws," and having thus manifested his hostility, and given tone, if not color, to his idea that we were an interloper, made a plunge toward us. A moment's view of our antagonist was just enough. His eyes flashed fire; he roared like a "bull of Bashan." We did not at all fancy the style of his horns; they were as straight as needles and about as sharp. He exhibited unmistakable desires to employ them upon us.

Knowing that it was expected of us to report the contest trial going on in another field, we remembered the prior and pressing interests of our friends, and set up a smart run. So did Mr. Bull. We scampered; he scampered; he made "better time" than we could "bottom out;" he gained on us rapidly; we could almost feel his hot breath on the back of our neck; it was neck or nothing; rail fence twenty rods off; bull within five rods; give up for "goner;" no such thing; friendly apple tree with low branches; clutched two of them, and lifted our precious bodies into the tree; Taurus arrived just as we cleared the ground.

Our enemy paced around the tree, bellowed after the manner of "Bonaparte, the son of Thunder," glared at us, and finally walked off about the distance of three trees. Thinking all was right, we slid down vertically, and "put" for the crazy old rail fence. The distance from tree to bull, and from tree to fence, was just about an even thing. But our assailant saw the movement, and at once again the chase was a hot one; but this time we anticipated the "horned critter," and, scaling the fence, landed in a field of rye at about the same moment our pursuer's horns struck the top rails of the fence, and set them flying. Separated by the fence, we read the roundel a lecture that we hope he will remember to his last moments.

THE PETERS AND THEIR NEGRESS LUCRETIA.—Several weeks ago, much indignation was elicited by disclosures made in evidence in the criminal court of atrocious cruelty on the part of Louis Peters and his wife toward their negress Lucretia. After a strenuous defence they were found guilty of having violated the statute against such atrocities, and punishment was assessed at a fine of $1,000 and twelve months' imprisonment. Stay of execution was obtained, and further legal proceedings in the case have since been and are still tardily progressing.

Soon after the above verdict, the negress, who should have been removed from those upon whom she had thus brought trouble, was found wandering nearly naked in the cold on the levees. She said that she had been again beaten and been compelled to flee from her master and mistress. She was returned to them, and several gentlemen then visited her, examined her person, observed the arrangements made for her convenience, and reported that her story of maltreatment, if not wholly false, was greatly exaggerated.

Yesterday, as Officer Gummel was passing the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peters, on Sixth street, near Morgan, he heard loud screams, and instantly the negress forced open the door and he caught her as she fell. Her head was covered with blood and she was evidently much hurt. In default of other quarters the officer bore her to the calaboose. The health officer was called, and on shaving the crown of her head, two deep cuts were disclosed, penetrating to the skull bone. One was two inches and the other an inch in length. Unfortunately, no evidence save her own statement is obtainable in the case. She states that Mrs. Peters and the brother of that lady attacked and beat her, and that the lady at length struck her over the head with a loose table-leg, forcing her to flee for her life.

We trust the parties thus implicated may free themselves from all suspicion of having perpetrated an atrocity so dastardly, infamous, and infernal as the wanton infliction of these frightful wounds. It is to be hoped that a different aspect than that which the case now wears will shortly appear, and that no such monstrous savagism exists within the pale of Christendom, as would inflict upon even a helpless brute the injuries under which this woman is now suffering.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

On Saturday afternoon, the Mayor's squadron made a descent on the gambling place over Gamin's hat store, No. 214 Broadway, and arrested fifteen persons, whom they found betting against faro. They were all taken to the Second Precinct Station-House, where Judge Welsh held the proprietors of the place to bail in $1,000 each, and let the rest off with a reprimand. Brotherson, the Union Bank defaulter, is said to have been a frequent visitor at this place and to have lost here, in "bucking against faro," considerable money.

The Mayor's police have got on the track of a swindling lottery agency, which has been receiving from thirty to forty letters a day from all sections of the country, inclosing various sums of money for lottery tickets. Two batches of these letters have been taken from the post-office and opened by the Mayor. Those containing money were forwarded to the Post Office Department to be returned to the owners. Three arrests have been made, and it is expected that more will be made to-day.

A gang of drunken rowdies got into an altercation Tuesday evening, in a low drinking saloon in Canal street, near West Broadway. As the bar-keeper fired a revolver at one of them in the street, the ball accidentally hit ex-Alderman Isaac H. Smith, of Brooklyn, in the right arm, shattering the bone so completely that it is feared amputation will be necessary. The rowdies—some Scotch Boys of the Eighth Ward—escaped. Mark Johnson, the bar-keeper, and John Horton, the proprietor, were arrested. The ex-Alderman, as he was shot, was on his way to church, in company with his wife.

THE LEVIATHAN.—It is estimated that the total cost of completing her fittings, putting on board stores, &c., and making the Leviathan in all respects ready for sea, will not exceed £120,000, and that the time required will not extend beyond the month of July. It has been proved that eight anchors are not sufficient to hold her at moorings during only a half gale, and she has been supplied with ten, five at the stem and five at the stern. The masts are being made at Millwall six in all, three square-rigged, and three rigged with fore and aft sails. They will all be composed of plates of wrought iron, an inch thick, and riveted together in the same manner as the sides of the ship, or a steam boiler of the strongest description. They will vary from 130 to 170 feet from the keel to the truck; each will be 3 feet 4 inches in diameter at the deck, the weight varying from 30 to 40 tons, exclusive of yards or rigging. In case of becoming necessary to cut away the masts an apparatus working by means of a powerful screw will be made to compress the two sides together in such a manner as to completely crush them in, and let them fall over the sides immediately. All the main and topmast yards of the square-rigged masts will also be of iron plates. The main yard will be 130 feet long, and lighter than if made of wood. As there is no dock large enough at the entrance to take in the Leviathan, when the masts are cleaned, she will have to be "gridironed," that is, run aground on rows of piles along the Mersey side for the purpose, and the tide, of course, will leave her dry at each low water.

BOERHAVE'S

HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR
DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,
And all various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER.
Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Dependence, Constipation, Bilious and Bleeding Piles, in All Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections. It has in numerous instances, proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.
This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared according to the principles of the celebrated Dr. Boerhave, who in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fellow-land who had suffered here and there, over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that it is truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.
It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, loss of appetite, indigestion, &c.
Generally instantaneous in its effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.
NOTICE—Whoever expects to find this beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grand remedial compound, possessed of singular remedial properties.
The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

THE VIENTEMPS AND THALBERG CONCERT.—
Sale of Seats.—The sale of secured seats for this grand concert will commence at the music store of D. P. Faulds & Co., to-morrow (Thursday) morning, at precisely 9 o'clock. We understand that a number of applications for seats have already been made, but all have been refused until the sale is regularly begun, so that all shall have an equal opportunity to select preferred seats.

DEATH OF AN OLD FERRYMAN.—The Concordia (La.) Intelligencer thus records the death of Mose, the ferryman at that place:
Monday, the anniversary of the birth of Washington, died, in sight and on the shore of "Jordan," at the Natchez landing, which he had rowed across, at least a million of times. Old Mose, aged somewhat less than Methuselah at his death. His day of glory was before the steam ferries were established; and his voice was somewhat like a person's on the Hudson river, which could be heard seven miles when engaged in secret prayer.

RELIEF FOR COL. JOHNSTON'S EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.—We learn from the agent of the contractors for supplies for the Utah expeditionary army that on the 26th of January there were assembled at Fort Laramie, 1,932 head of draft oxen in good condition, and that, in pursuance of instructions received from the War Department, a wagon train consisting of 110 wagons will start thence on the 26th of this month, laden with provisions and clothing for Col.
Johnston's command, now in winter quarters at Fort Bridger. Each wagon will carry 5,500 pounds weight, and 1,820 oxen will be required for the service. We also learn from good authority that the contractors have no doubt that the train will reach its destination before the 15th of May, and in good time to supply the troops with everything of which they may stand in need, prior to the commencement of their march to Salt Lake.

Dyspepsia and Fits.

DR. TRACY DELORME, THE GREAT
CURE OF CONSUMPTION, was for several years so badly afflicted by Dyspepsia that for a part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl.
This prescription, given by a mere child while in a state of trance, has cured everybody who has taken it, never having failed once. It is equally as sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia. The ingredients may be found in any drug store. I will send this valuable prescription to any person who will send me a stamp to the address: DR. TRACY

PROF. DE GRATH'S PRACTICE.
A Sheriff cured one man by De Grath's Electric Oil.
LETTER FROM DR. KEYSER.
PITTSBURGH, May 29, 1886.
Prof. De Grath, 30 South Eighth st., Phila.:
I have a remarkable cure. Deputy Sheriff Kerr, of Pittsburgh, had a very swollen and painful hand. I applied the oil personally, which gave instant relief. He has recommended the oil to all with Rheumatism, in which the results were most satisfactory.
Truly yours,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1st, 1886.

Prof. De Grath:
I must inform you of the great benefit a patient of mine has experienced from the application of your Electric Oil. It had been in the hands of a girl of eight years of age, who was terribly afflicted with scrofula and a discharge from the knee. The leg became so contracted as to warily bury the knee to the hip or thigh. It was in the whole "Materia Medica" to have any effect or give relief.
I finally procured a bottle of your "Electric Oil" and gave it to the mother, directing her to apply it to the parts along the contracted sinews, which had the effect of making the leg nearly one-fourth straight in about six hours. The application of the oil was repeated for about three weeks, using only six bottles; and now the leg is nearly perfectly straight.
